

Keestrack appoints Duo Group as new dealer for the United Kingdom & Ireland

Keestrack is pleased to announce Duo Group as its new official dealer for the United Kingdom and Ireland. Duo Group is a well-established specialist in delivering effective plant systems for the quarrying, aggregates, recycling and material handling industries. Both companies look forward to a successful collaboration.

“Keestrack is excited to expand its presence in the UK and Ireland together with Duo Group,” says Frederik Hoogendoorn, CEO of Keestrack. “Through this partnership, Duo Group will offer our full range of mobile crushing, screening and shredding solutions, as well as Keestrack’s ancillary equipment designed to increase productivity, efficiency and sustainability.”

The partnership comes at an important moment for Keestrack, which will celebrate 30 years of scalping innovation in 2026. This milestone reflects Keestrack’s long standing commitment to productivity, efficiency, and sustainable equipment design, values that strongly align with Duo Group’s approach to the UK market.

“Duo Group is delighted to extend its crushing and screening product portfolio with Keestrack’s tracked crushers, screens and ancillary equipment,” says Martin McWilliams, Managing Director of Duo Group. “These sustainable, efficient and highly productive processing solutions enable us to deliver even greater value to customers in the aggregates, recycling and material handling sectors. The availability of flexible power options - including hybrid and fully electric drive systems for remote or zero-emission sites - is a significant advantage for our customers as customers place greater focus on efficiency and reduced emissions.”

Padraig McDermott, Sales Director of Duo Group, commented, “We are proud to be appointed as Keestrack’s distributor for the UK and Ireland. Keestrack is widely recognised for its engineering excellence, innovative design and leadership in all-electric and zero-engine machine technology. This appointment aligns perfectly with our commitment to providing high-quality, future-focused equipment solutions, backed by outstanding service and support. We look forward to building on Keestrack’s success and supporting customers with some of the most efficient and advanced machines available in the market.”

The partnership is effective immediately, with Duo Group offering full access to Keestrack’s product portfolio, genuine spare parts, technical support, and customer training.

Duo Group will provide pre-sales, technical support, spare parts, and service coverage for the Keestrack range. Customers will benefit from Duo’s experienced engineering teams, strong local presence, and proven capability in delivering tailored solutions across a wide range of applications.

This new agreement further reinforces Duo Group's role as a trusted partner to both manufacturers and customers, supporting long term operational performance across the processing industry in the UK and Ireland.

Boilerplate Keestrack
